"SEVENTEEN" TO BE RARE DRAMATIC TREAT

On next Saturday evening, Nov. 15, the "Masquers," the newly organized Sequoia Alumni Dramatic Club will present Booth Tarkington's splendid comedy, "Seventeen" at the high school auditorium.

This play, taken from the novel of the same name, offers infinite possibilities for the cast because of the number of humorous situations. The character of Willie Baxter, the youth of seventeen, who has such a time with his love affairs will find an echo of response in the heart of many a grown-up who has been through the same seige, while Jane, the bothersome little sister, who always hears more than she should and promptly tells all she knows has many counterparts in real life. Lola Pratt, the baby-talk lady, with her precious little dog, "Flopit," may seem exaggerated to some, but not so to the adoring eyes of Willie Baxter.

Miss Catherine J. Boyle, dramatic coach at the high school, is directing the play and promises that the cast will give a very good presentation. All of the people taking part have had considerable experience in high school plays and it will be interesting to see the stars of former days behind the footlights again. To list their achievements is to go back as far as 1917, when the famous comedy "The Strennuous Life," was produced, and most of them have taken part in several dramatic offerings.

The complete cast follows:

Mr. Baxter ..... Dorothy Bresse
Mr. Baxter ..... Oscar Olson
William Sylvanus Baxter..... Elbert Thomas
Johnnie Watson ..... De Alton Wentworth
Jane Baxter ..... Florence Mack
Mary Parker ..... Berenice Martin
Lola Pratt ..... Amelia Johnson
Genesis ..... Albert Davies
Joe Bullitt ..... Alfred Walker
Mr. Parker ..... Wesley Locker
George Cooper ..... Jack Poole
Ethel Boke .... Catherine Britschige
Mary Brooks ..... Dolores Lyons

Between the acts of the play, music will be furnished by the Sequoia high school orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Gaylord. Although the thirty or more students comprising this organization have been working together but a short time, they have already made rapid progress and are now able to furnish excellent music at the high school assemblies. f such progress continues the orchestra will be one of the outstanding features of the school.

Admission for the evenings program will be fifty cents. Tickets are now on sale and reservations may be made beginning Wednesday, Nov. 12 at Ryans Drug store or at the high school.

CELEBRITIES COMING IN LYCEUM COURSE

The Lyceum course to be offered the people of this community under the auspices of the high school, is something to be looked forward to with great pleasure. Each of the numbers is what is known as a "celebrity number," assuring the audiences of the very best talent.

On December 2, in the afternoon, Tony Sarg's Marionettes will present "The Pied Piper of Hamlin." On the same evening the same company will appear in Robert Louis Stevenson's well-known "Treasure Island." The art of the Marionettes is a unique one, all the acting being done by puppets, manipulated by strings worked by real actors who furnish the lines of the play.

On December 8, the Flotaw Opera Company will present the tuneful opera, "L'Ombra," in appropriate costume. This plays a full evening.

On January 19, a four-act play, "The Cinderella Man," will be given by a New York cast, which has received much favorable comment from the New York papers.

On February 2, the Metropolitan quartet will furnish the program, contributing dramatic selections as well as musical numbers.

The date and nature of the last number is yet undecided, but it will be produced by Mr. Carrington and Miss Boyle, and will consist of musical and dramatic numbers.

Season tickets for the last four numbers may be obtained by paying $2 each, if you are an adult; $1.50 if you are a student. The Marionette shows are not included in the price but will cost an additional 50 cents. Application for season tickets, if not already mailed to you, may be obtained at Ryan's Drug store, the Central grammar school, or the high school. Information about the Lyceum series may be obtained from Mr. Argo or Miss Boyle at the high school.

WOODSIDE NOTES

Mrs. Daniel C. Jackling has gone to Portland to be in attendance at the Horse Show there. From there she will return to San Francisco as one of the patronesses of the annual horse show to be held at the San Francisco Riding academy.

Mrs. Lawrence Harris heads the committee having in charge the annual rumage sale which will be held at the Civic auditorium in San Francisco.

Mrs. J. L. Ross, Jr., gave a luncheon and card party on Thursday in honor of Mrs. Wright of Berkeley, who spent the summer here in Dr. Ross' house. Among the guests were Mrs. Caswell Swett, Mrs. A. H. Audiffred, Mrs. Fred Mighall, Mrs. C. Bangs, Mrs. J. D. Gish, Mrs. Philip Kroeck, Mrs. Kinney, Mrs. Painter and Mrs. Wright.

The old Drexler place which was purchased some time ago by B. P. Oliver, has been resold by him to Roy Bishop of San Francisco, who will hereafter make this his sum-

Mr. and Mrs. James V. Neuman will leave the Keenan place where they have been living for the past year and will occupy the house recently built by John Volpiano on the Canyada road.

Mrs. Harold Allen and daughter, Jane Louise, of San Bruno, will be week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ross, Jr.

The early rains and warm weather have produced a bountiful crop of mushrooms which may be gathered in quantity from almost any uncultivated hill side in the valley.

We rejoice in the result of the election and are proud that Woodside contributed her mite toward the result but we cannot refrain from commenting upon the changed atmosphere about the polling place since the advent of woman's suffrage. In the old days there were always boxes of cigars and, at a distance from the polling place, certain wet goods furnished for the refreshment of the election officials by the candidates or their friends. Nowa-days candy seems to have taken the place of cigars, and cakes and other delicacies were in evidence. At four o'clock in the afternoon, Mrs. Joseph H. Hallett and her daughter, Miss Eleanor, served hot mince pie and coffee. If you have not tasted one of Mrs. Hallett's mince pies, be sure to call around at the next election. At ten o'clock at night, Mr. and Mrs. James V. Neuman served hot tamales, coffee, etc. Verily the life of an election official is not as hard as has been represented. If the financial emoluments were taken away there would still be plenty of candidates for the position.

ROAD WORK OCCUPIES TRUSTEES

The attention of the board of trustees at their regular meeting last Monday was primarily taken up by consideration of road paving questions. The first matter to be considered was the construction of shoulders along the highway, which when completed will complete the haghway paving from curb to curb.

A recommendation of a committee consisting of D. P. Flynn, W. P. Gray, J. B. Perry, H. W. McGarvey and A. C. Argo, all interested parties in the matter who were appointed by the board at a former meeting, and who had been to Los Angeles to investigate a particular type of paving made there, was received. This Committe recommended the paving produced by the National Paving Company of Los Angeles. A petition signed by practically all of the property owners along the highway urged this type of paving as well as the use of a five-inch asphaltic base. These recommendations were received by the board and the work ordered done on those plans.

A protest against the type of paving ordered on Harrison and Adams street was received from D. P. Flynn, L. A. Behrens and E. W. Magruder. The work in question was ordered to be done at the last meeting and was to have been a five inch concrete base underlaid with three inches of crushed rock. The protestants to this type of paving claim that it is too expensive a style of paving for the property it is to serve. The matter was laid over to the next meeting.

The board next took up the matter of supplying sewers for certain blocks which are at present without sewer mains. This was done at the suggestion of City Engineer Dimmitt. The blocks are on Grand, Hudson and Charter streets. The city engineer was directed to prepare plans and specifications for laying mains on these streets.

A representative of an electric sign company appeared before the board and offered to install one of his signs at the corner of Broadway and the highway for sixty days free trial. The matter was referred to City Engineer Dimmitt for consideration.

Several dance permits were granted before the board adjourned.

This property sold for $13,000 and is to be used as the site for a large garage by the Hess Company. The other parcel of land is on the corner of Beech street and the highway, just south of the Beeger tannery, which was sold to B. Aratta. Upon this property Aratta will conduct his coal and wood business, now located on Oak avenue.

Many Attend Dooling Funeral

Judge George H. Buck attended the funeral services of the late Judge Maurice T. Dooling at Hollister on Thursday. On his return Judge Buck said that the church where the services were held could not accommodate the vast number of friends of the deceased, who paid their last respects to the deceased. Men and women of prominence from all parts of the state were present.

Judge Dooling was well known in Redwood City. He was the trial judge at the famous Loren Coburn incompetency case that was tried in the lower floor of the Odd Fellow's building on Main street. This was shortly after the earthquake when the old court house collapsed. A month was consumed in the presentation of the case. Many prominent attorneys participated in the trial, including George C. Ross, Hall Ross, Walter H. Linforth, Matt Sullivan, Theodore Roche, Archy Treat and others. Judge Dooling declared Coburn incompentent. The latter carried the case to the Supreme court but that tribunal confirmed the decision of the lower court. Judge Dooling appointed Billy Hynes of San Francisco guardian of the aged capitalist. Many of the principal actors in the famous law suit have passed to the great beyond where there are on courts and perhaps not many lawyers. Billy Hynes, public admisistrator of San Francisco for years, died some time ago. Mr. and Mrs. Coburn passed away some time after the litigation closed. Now Judge Dooling, the trial judge. Thus the many chapters in the noted trial close.

WORK STARTED ON NEW BURLINGAME THEATRE

Work was begun this week on the erection of the new $350,00 theatre being erected in Burlingame by E. J. Arkush, owner of the Sequoia theatre of this city. The building, which is to be one of the finest outside of San Francisco, will form the sixth link in the circuit of theatres maintained on the peninsula by Arkush, the others being the Sequoia theatre of Redwood City, the Stanford and the Varsity of Palo Alto, the Regent of San Mateo and the Garden theatre of Burlingame.

An elaborate ground breaking marked the commencement of work on the new structure. It is thus described in part by the San Mateo Times:

"A. M. Bowles, general manager of the West Coast Theaters Corporation, one of the largest theatrical organizations in the United States, turned the first shovel of dirt and as he did so workmen drove the big steam shovel onto the property and actual constructian work got under way.

"A motion picture camera from one of the big news weeklies cranked out films of the big event and the ground breaking exercises in Burlingame will be advertised on screens throughout the nation.

"Trustee Gordon C. Hess, representing the city of Burlingame, delivered a short talk in which he reviewed the development that has taken place in the community and predicted greater future prosperity for the entire peninsula.

"He congratulated Ellis J. Arkush, Eph Karelson, Ray Kelsall and the others interested in the theater project on splendid success that they have had in the theatrical business and declared that the new theater is certain to be a complete success.

"Gilbert Ferrell, prominent Burlingame attorney and president of the Burlingame Chamber of Commerce, represented that organization at the ground-breaking exercises and made a short speech of congratulation."

It is understood that the completion of this new showhouse in Burlingame will be followed by an enlargement of the Sequoia theatre here. What other changes the management will make in the local theater have not been announced definitely as yet.

JACKIE COOGAN COMING IN HIS BIGGEST FILM

With more than $400,000 spent on the construction of the sets alone, Jackie Coogan's latest picture, "Long Live the King," his first under the $1,500,000 Metro contract which was given him recently, ought to fulfill all the advance reports which were broadcasted throughout the country at the time this picture was in the making in Hollywood.

That it is an unusually lavish and beautiful production is substantiated by the fact that it contains several exact duplications of famous European structures. One is of the famous castle of Neuschwanstein in Bulgaria, a landmark in European architecture, another of the world-renowned opera house at Dresden, Germany, and still another of the beautiful Cathedrall in Herzegovina, the shrine of millions of European visitors. A special research staff sailed from Europe for Hollywood at the time production was begun with exact designs and plans for the duplication of these famous structures.

"Long Live the King," is an adaptation of Mary Robert Rinehart's famous novel of the same name. It was directed by Victor Schertzinger from the continuity by C. Gardner Sullivan and Eva Unsell and photographed by Frank Good and Robert Martin. William Van Brincken was research expert and J. J. Hughes art director. The picture was produced for Metro under the personal supervision of Jack Coogan, Sr.

LOCAL RESIDENT IS ARCHITECT AND SINGER

Gustav Fonandern, who recently came to Redwood City and is now living at 326 Elwood street, is winning wide reputation for his ability as a musical artist as well as in his profesion as an architect. The local artist recently gave a recital at Burlingame which won him much praise. In commenting upon the local mans ability an eastern paper states:

"Mr. Fonandern is a college graduate and was also graduated from the Technical High School in Stockholm, Sweden. He then practised for some time in Sweden as well as in foriegn countries, before he settled down in Stockholm as an architect. He had gained a great reputation in his profession, when the crash of 1918 shook the building activities to their very foundation. But that did not crush him. He had at many occasions appeared as an amateur singer in different societies and at festivities in Stockholm, and when the building crash caused an interruption in his work as an architect, he put his tools aside and became a professional singer. He had before this taken lessons from the renowned operatic singer, John Forsell.

"From the very first he was fortunate in being received enthusiastically by both the press and the public, and during the folowing years he became more and more known as one of the finest and most popular ballad singers of the Scandinavian countries. But he is not only a singer. He has published upwards of a hundred songs, of which a great many have become beloved and won a vast popularity among music friends in Scandinavia as well as in the United States. He has also been honored with some decorations."

SUPERVISORS TO MEET COMMITTEE

The meeting of the board of supervisors this week was short and uneventful, being occupied chiefly by the receipt of reports from the various county departments. Among these were the reports of J. R. Eabanks, superintendent of the county farm; Dr. W. C. McLean, county veterinarian; A. W. Tate, county horticultural commissioner, and other monthly reports.

Mrs. S. Rousell of Belmont appeared before the board in regard to an electric sign which the residents of Belmont wish to have placed across the highway. The cost of erecting the sign was already taken care of, Mrs. Rousell said, and she wished to know if the power necessary to light the sign could be taken from the Belmont lighting district. This matter was referred to the district attorney for an opinion as to the legality of such a proceedure.

The appointment of a dairy inspector was requested by Emelio Botto of the San Carlos dairy, who appeared personally before the board and stated that the dairymen of the county were willing to pay the salary of such an inspector if the county would make the appointment. Botto explaned that at present the dairymen of this county are at a disadvantage as compared with those in San Francisco, where an inspector is maintained. The matter was laid over until the next meeting of the board in order that County Veterinarian Dr. McLean might be present and state his views in regard to the appointment.

A bid was accepted from the Pacific Gas and Electric Company covering the renewal of their present contract for supplying electricity for the Menlo Park Lighting District.

A letter was received by the board from the Committee of Nine appointed by Governor Richardson to outline the highway program for the coming year. The committee stated that it was endeavoring to meet the governing bodies of all the counties, and that according to its schedule it would be in Redwood City on Tuesday, November 11, and it asked the board to set the hour most suited to its convenience. After some discussion the board decided to meet at 10'oclock. The object of the meeting is to outline the desire of the county in regard to the highway program in this section.

A communication received from the War department relative to a permit asked by the Pacific Portland Cement Company to erect a pumphouse near the mouth of Redwood Creek was filed.

Bids were received and opened for running the service from the present hospital at Beresford to the new tubecular pavilion. Bids were submitted by Mark Ryan of this city for $312 and by W. H. Medley of San Mateo for $340. The contract was accordingly let to the local electrician.

Two claims were passed for postmaster W. J. Dusel of this city; one for $715.80, the other for $408.88, covering postage on envelopes for the tax collector and on sample ballots for the county clerk, respectively.

COOLIDGE—THE MAN OF THE HOUR

CALVIN COOLIDGE will be president of the United States for the next four years if the Great Ruler of the Universe allows him to remain in his sphere of usefulness. The voice of the people has spoken in no unmistakable terms and the silent, thoughtful man who lives at the White House, as well as in the hearts of his people, will continue on in his wise course as the leader of the greatest nation in the world.

Few promises were made by Mr. Coolideg during the campaign. His past life and actions spoke for him He conducted affairs of state just as though no election were pending and went through the whole affair in his usual dignified, quiet manner.

We are glad that the vote was so overwhelming as it shows the world that the citizens of our country are behind the president. It was an endorsement, a compliment as well as a mighty vote of confidence.

The president sums up his feelings in the following simple pledge which he made at the White House Wednesday.

"It does not seem possible to me to make an adequate expression concerning the presidency of the United States. No other honor equals it, no other responsibility approaches it. When it is conferred by an overwhelming choice of the people and vote of the electoral college these are made all the greater.

"I can only express my simple thanks to all those who have contributed to the result and plainly acknowledge that it has been brought to pass through the the work of a Divine Providence, of which I am but one instrument. Such powers as I have I dedicate to the service of all my country and of all my countrymen

"In the performance of the duties of my office I could not ask for anything more than the sympathetic consideration which my fellow Americans have always bestowed upon me. I have no appeal except to the common sense of all the people. I have made no pledge except to serve them. I have no object except to promote their welfare."

Could any pledge be simpler or more reverent? It really tells the character of the man. From this simple statement of faith, we know that Calvin Coolidge will be president in fact and in deed during his whole administration.

HALLOWE'EN

ALL Hallow Eve has come and gone and the youth of the land had a chance to be gay, We have heard of few happenings here at home that were detrimental to the best interests of our community. In neighboring cities, however, we have read of death and destruction that followed Hallowe'en pranks.

It would seem to us that parents and teachers should teach the boys and girls to respect private property at all times. No season of the year offers the opportunity for such teaching as does this. We have perhaps never had an age when there was such freedom of restraint as we now have. Corporal punishment is not tolerated; moral suasion that does not at all times have the desired effect is the usual order of procedure, probation is granted to practically every first offender who has committed a crime and youth which is always impetuous, does not seem to have the curb that restrains it.

Personally we believe that the world is a much better place in which to live than it was a generation ago. But we still believe that parents should teach their boys and girls to respect the rights of others.

A little talk along this line might have saved the lives of several boys throughout the good old U. S. A. last week, and a deal of heartache, anger and worry might have been avoided

ARMISTICE DAY

NEXT TUESDAY the people of America will look back six years to the day when the war ended. We perhaps never had such a day as that in all the history of our country. The war was won. The world would be safe for Democracy. Our boys would come home and there never could be another war.

We told ourselves these things and were the happiest people on earth. Our boys cam home. Gradually they took up their old places or secured new ones. For a little time the readjustment caused some hard feelings but in the main the last six years have been the best in the history of our nation.

But Democracy has not been safe throughout the world, and there has been almost constant conflict in divers places throughout the earth.

Wars should cease. With all of our boasted civilization we should be able to adapt the teachings of the Man of Galilee to present world affairs. We know that the simple living up to his creed would help to make things right.

Perhaps we as a government shouldn't be a part of the League of Nations, but as the most resourceful nation of the earth we should exert ourselves towards the end of "Peace on Earth. Good Will to Men." That is what we should think about on Armistice Day That should be the purpose of our celebrations.

WHITES DECREASE IN SOUTH AFRICA

A cable from Johannesburg, union of South Africa, says that the next 25 years probably will decide the question once and for all whether the white race is to have any part in the ultimate development of South Africa or is to be crowded out by the native negro population, according to a statement in a government blue book analysis of the 1921 census.

Failing additions from abroad to the ranks of the whites, the blue book says, the latter must abandon forever the prospect of maintaining their civilization in South Africa, except as a diminishing minority, and the whites may then be forced to abandon the country entirely.

NEW STUDEBAKER CAR SELLS RAPIDLY HERE

Considerable activity in the sale of the new Studebaker car is reported by Earl H. Rush, who has just assumed the agency for the new car here in addition to the agency for the Star, Cadallac and Flint which he has been carrying. The new model has a number of new features which make it a popular one.

In order to handle the increased business which the new agency has created, the local dealer had added John Carl of this city to his selling force. Mr. Carl, who has had considerable sales experience, was formerly operator in the telegraph station here.

SENATOR SAMUEL M. SHORTRIDGE

THE people of San Mateo county should be proud of the fact that Senator Samuel Shortridge is one of our own people. They should be proud of Senator Shortridge. Throughout a campaign that looked doubtful at times but which came to a wonderful conclusion, he was in the thick of the fray fighting for his principles.

Senator Shortridge might have rested at home. He could have attended to his own legal and business affairs. He would not have been criticised had he chosen such a course. He was not willing to sit idly by however, but went out into the highways and byways and preached the cause of Calvin Coolidge and continued prosperity.

We believe that Senator Shortridge contributed largely to the great victory in California, for he showed in a logical and an understandable way that a change was not for the best interests of the American people

Throughout its history California has been well represented in the United States Senate and Mr. Shortridge will always be rated among the greatest of our statesmen. Again we will say that we are proud of this fine man, our neighbor, who represents his people so well in the most powerful representative assembly of the world.

Vacationist Had Real Problem on His Hands

A revival of this old yarn, once a favorite of George Roby's, is not amiss: It was all about a man who arrived at a seaside resort and went to a hotel. Shortly after a friend called and was shown up to his room.

He found him sitting in a chair surveying with a gloomy countenance a trunk which stood against the wall.

"What's the matter?" asked the caller.

"I want to get a suit of clothes out of that trunk," was the answer.

"Well, what's the difficulty—lost the key?"

"No, I have the key all right," he said, heaving a sigh. "I'll tell you how it is. My wife packed that trunk. She expected to come with me, but was prevented. To my certain knowledge she put in enough to fill three trunks the way a man would pack them. If I open it, the things will boil up all over the room. I could never get them back. Now I'm wondering whether it would be cheaper to go and buy a new suit of clothes or two more trunks."—San Francisco Argonaut.

The Word Factory

Slang is the great manufacturer of words, for it is constantly originating new ones which eventually are approved by the lexicographers and get into the dictionaries. But radio has made a record in its responsibility for 5,000 new words added to our speech in a very short time. Golf has added its contribution of a few hundred, but it has been more deliberate, in keeping with the nation which is sponsor for the game. The automobile must be given credit for its share and aviation has added quite an array.

PROTECTING THE INVESTMENT

Abraham Lincoln humorously said of a poor neighbor's assets, "He has a wife and two children which I should think were worth thirty thousand dollars to any man."

A family is indeed a golden investment and needs the same protection and care that any investment requires.

For three generations the editors of The Youth's Companion have felt the same responsibility to the families of subscribers as if those families were their own. In taking a subscription they have accepted a trust; they have done their part to see that the family investment increased in value through the development of character and a taste for the good things in life.

The 52 issue of 1925 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

PHAROAH SEPULCHER FOUND

It is reported that vaults which are probably pre-Islamic have been discovered in a hillock at Bab-el-Guissa, near Fez, which is one huge burial ground says the New York Herald-Tribune.

It is thought that these are vestiges of a very old town which occupied the present site of Fez, and which was destroyed about the year 1,000 B. C.

The town belonged to the period when the Berbers were in relationship with the Pharoahs and came under the influence of the ancient Egyptian civilization. —New York Herald.

COUNTY ACREAGE DOUBLED THIS YEAR

The report of the county horticultural commissioner, A. W. Tate, which was filed this week with the board of supervisors contains some interesting figures relative to the products of the county. The report indicates that a total of 12,607 acres of San Mateo county are devoted to vegetable and fruit raising. In part the report reads as follows:

"The annual census of he vegetable growing of the county has just been completed by this office. We find that the following is the acreage dtvoted to the various crops: artichokes 4,319, peas 1,981, cauliflower and broccoli 1,453, cabbage 987, lettuce 832, horse beans 752, potatoes 688, sprouts 500, green corn 156, onions 124, carrot 116, turnips 86, beets 82, celery 32, squash 19, spinach 52, string beans 53, parsley 45, tomatoes 260, and miscellaneous 70 acres. Total number of acres planted to vegetables, 12,607.

"There will be noted a considerable decrease in the number of acres planted to artichokes and tomatoes compared with the planting of 1923. This is due to several causes, among them being lower prices, shortage of water and serious aphid attacks. On the other hand, the acreage planted to cauliflower has more than doubled, and peas, sprouts, cabbage and potatoes show a substantial increase.

"Nursery stock is now arriving in considerable quantity, 177 shipments of 87,231 plants having been inspected during the month. Of these 143 shipments of 61,387 plants were from California points; 3,000 bulbs were returned to the shipper and 16,950 fumigated and delivered to the consignee."

Reins of Power Held in Hands of People

As far back as the Middle ages, the doctrine was held in England that ministers of state were responsible, not only to the crown, but also to parliament, according to a writer in the London Times. For instance, in 1341 a pledge was exacted from Edward III that the chancellor and other great officers should be appointed in parliament, and their work tested by parliament. In 1378 another similar pledge was given. These pledges were not always kept, but parliament never lost sight of them, and their spirit survived. At times this responsibility bore down upon bad ministers with tragic effect. Several such ministers were impeached by parliament, found guilty and beheaded—Stafford, for instance, in the reign of Charles I.

What may be called the modern doctrine of responsible government was first put into practice in the reign of William and Mary, that is, a few years after the revolution of 1688-89. Before that time the ministry was often composed of men of different political affiliations, and it was no uncommon thing for the secretary of state and the lord treasurer to vote on opposite sides in parliament. A ministry so composed was not efficient or harmonious, and William began the practice of selecting all the ministers from one political party, that party being the one that had the majority in the house of commons. From that beginning has grown our present system of a responsible ministry that is absolutely dependent for existence upon the will of the house of commons.

English County Has Its Own Salt Lake

Every one who has swum in a lake or pond as well as in the sea knows the extra buoyancy of salt water as compared with fresh. This effect of salt on water is demonstrated strikingly at Droitwich, the Worcestershire spa, where there is water in which it is impossible to sink.

You can float on the water, sit on it, and even go to sleep on it, without fear of drowning. The better the swimmer you are, indeed, the worse you will fare, because the moment you try to strike out your feet fly upward, to give you an unpleasant emetic!

So high is the percentage of salt that the crystals completely coat the skin, unless drying is resorted to immediately on leaving the water.

Some of the cures effected by the baths are remarkable. Anemia, neuralgic ailments, and rheumatism sometimes yield as if by magic under the treatment, which is becoming increasingly popular.—London Answers.

Mocking Bird and Robin

To the South the mocking bird is what the robin is to the North. He is known as far north as British Columbia, but is seldom found nesting there, while those found in the southern United States live there the year round, writes a contributor to "Bird Lore."

The female builds her nest the latter part of March, lays her greenish-blue eggs, speckled with brown, early in April, and by May the eggs are hatched. A second brood is often reared by the same pair of birds. The mocking bird's back is ashen gray, his wings a brownish tinge with a large white patch, and his throat and outer tail feathers are white, with the under parts brownish white.

It is when the mocking bird works himself up into a passion of song that one realizes the wonder of his voice He imitates the sounds of the woods and the other birds, but he improves on them.

No Regular Nail Sizes

Up until about the Fifteenth century nails in England were sold by the hundred. Nails which sold for 10 cents a hundred were called 10-penny nails, those which sold for 6 cents, 6-penny nails, etc. When the prices changed the names persisted and, finally, came to be used to designate size, says the Detroit News.

The "d" is used as a sign of penny and is derived from the Latin "denarius." According to Webster's International dictionary, the explanation that "penny" in this connection is a corruption of "pound" is wrong. There are no regular standard sizes for nails by "pennies." For instance, the length of 10-penny nails varies, depending upon the kind of nails and the firm manufacturing them.

Size of Alaska

United Alaska spreads over 17 degrees north and south, or as far as from New Orleans to Duluth, so that some variation of climate might reasonably be expected within its borders. And east and west the stretch is 58 degrees, or considerably more than from New York to San Francisco. Plenty of elbow room this way, too, for diversities. The total area is nearly 600,000 square miles, or one-fifth the size of the entire United States.—Mary Lee Davis in Scribner's Magazine.

Kisses

The safest time to kiss is midnight. The most dangerous time is early in the morning, germs having accumulated during the night. As the hours roll by germs are gradually eliminated from their favorite nest—mouth and lips. Even at four in the afternoon kissing still is risky.

Cleaning Without Odor by the
F. Thomas Process
Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded by our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. It is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening "gasoline" smell in your clothes

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

After a brief illness Major Philip Grayson Wales, a veteran of the Spanish-American war and the Philippine insurrection, passed away at his home last Sunday. His death was wholly unexpected. The major was a kindly man, well-liked by the people of Menlo Park and by all who knew him. He was a physician in the army and before entering the service was a practicing physician in Washington, D. C. The family has the sympathy of the community in its sad loss.

Major Wales is a native of Washington, D. C., aged 63 years. He retired from active army service 14 years ago and came to California, which has been his home since that time.

Surving him are his wife, Mary, and three sons: Captain Victor Wales, Philip Wales, a veteran of the World War now in a hospital at El Paso Texas, and William of Menlo Park.

Mrs. Cecelia La Grave, a native of France, aged 64 years, passed away in San Francisco last Sunday. The deceased spent much of her time here with her sister. She was well known and liked in Menlo Park. The funeral was held last Tuesday from the Church of St. Joan d'Arc in San Francisco. Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery.

A dance under the auspices of the alumni of St. Joseph's school will take place this evening in Native Sons hall. Good music and an enjoyable time assured all who may attend. Come and have a good time, make merry and let joy be unconfined.

William Klay has prepared plans for a $10,000 garage to be erected on the highway on the Merrill lot east of, the state highway. Work on the garage is to begin very soon.

The Menlo Park Athletic Association will give a dance in Native Sons hall on Saturday evening, November 15. Love's orchestra is to furnish the music. The proceeds of the dance will go towards a fund to equip the football team. It's a good cause, buy a ticket and help the Menlo football team to win the peninsula championship. Dancing is to continue until 3 a. m.

Mr. Doma is erecting an attractive bungalow on Live Oak avenue. Al Klay is to erect also a five-room stucco cottage on Santa Cruz avenue. Building activity in Menlo Park was never so brisk as at present.

James Murray and John Orton returned Monday from a three-day quail hunt at Monterey. They know the haunts and habits of quail and can secure the limit if they can but raise a bevy.

Mrs. Frank Kelly and three children and Miss Ruth Walsh of San Francisco were guests Sunday at the home of Mrs. Martin Walsh, mother of Mrs. Kelly and Miss Walsh. Mrs. Jane Nolan of San Francisco was also a guest at the Walsh home.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Douglass returned today after a honeymoon at Honolulu and will pass the winter in Palo Alto. Mrs. Douglass was Miss Noel McGettigan of San Francisco before her marriage October 7. Mr. Douglass is a Stanford man, member of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity and son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Douglass of Menlo Park.

Miss Mary O'Farrell, who graduated recently from the State Teachers' College of San Francisco, and who is now teaching in Sonoma county, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Farrell of Menlo Park.

Work of constructing more than 2640 feet of creosoted wood subway has been practically completed by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company along the State Highway in Menlo Park, according to J. D. Worthington, manager for the telephone company in this district. The project was rushed to completion in advance of the highway paving crews which have swept down the peninsula with rapid pace.

The subway, built to contain large lead sheathed cables, enclosing many hundreds of pairs of telephone wires, include 640 feet of creosoted wood ducts or compartments. The large capacity of the underground equipment built by the telephone company gives a graphic indication of the growth and development which characterize the present and are prophesized for the future in this section.

Mrs. Frederick McNear will leave in a short time for a trip to Europe. Right after Christmas she will be joined by her husband. Both will then begin a tour of the world on the steamer Franconia. They will be absent from Menlo Park until early next summer.

Mrs. Jackson, proprietor of the Eagle restaurant, is confined to a San Francisco hospital, having recently undergone an operation. She is expected home in a few days. This will be glad news for her many friends in Menlo Park. During her absence the cafe is to conducted by her charming daughter.

Carmel O'Keefe entertained twenty-four of her girl friends at a Hallowe'en party last Friday evening. Hallowe'en games, ever dear to the childish heart, were played, after which refreshments were served. Miss Carmel demonstrated cleverness as a hostess.

It was reported yesterday that Lyle Harrington, the promoter of the Dumbarton bridge, was hurrying on his way from New York to San Francisco to make preparations for awarding a contract for the construction of the bridge. It was said that a large portion of the finance is to be furnished by New York capitalists.

Senator S. M. Shortridge returned home on Tuesday after a stumping tour of the state of a month. Every portion of the commonwealth was visited by him in the interest of the republican party. He came home to cast his ballot for Coolidge and Dawes. His precinct, Atherton, is the banner republican precinct of the county, having given the president a large plurality.

Probably last Tuesday was the quietest election day in the history of Menlo Park, although over eighty per cent of the registered voters came to the polls. There was no local contest of any kind to cause excitement. When the polls closed the election booths were like morgues, there being no bystanders eager to hear the result of some favorite candidate. The voters remained at home listening to the radio and securing the result of the national election, the result of which was known before six o'clock. The New York World, the democratic organ, gave up the battle at that time and conceded the election of the president.

The three precincts in Menlo Park gave Coolidge pluralities. Precinct No. 1 was as follows: Coolidge 89, La Follette, 82; Davis 15.

Precinct No. 3, Coolidge 80; La Follette 69; Davis 16.

About thirty years ago Menlo Park was the banner democratic district of the county, candidates of that party always looking to Menlo Park to pull them through a close contest. Tuesday's vote showed that the party has lapsed into obnoxious disuetude. In some of the precincts of 244, there were only 15 democratic votes cast. The third party appeared to have annihilated the bourbons. Supervisor John MacBain, although having no oppositon polled 319 votes in these three precints.

Several peninsula girls who were active in Menlo Park Circus Club affairs this year are planning to enter the annual horse show of the St. Francis Riding Club in San Francisco. Among them will be Miss Evelyn Taylor, Miss Carol Lapham, Miss Betty Downey, Miss Grace Hamilton and Miss Walta Linforth.

Mrs. Emma Stribling of Menlo Park was taken suddenly ill at the polling place where she was serving as an election official Tuesday. She was taken to her home, where she is still confined to her bed. Her place at the polls was taken by Mrs. Fred Worrell.

Last week while playing with the Saint Ignatius football eleven, John O'Farrell received a fractured shoulder. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital where the injury was attended to. The young man was able to return to his home in Menlo Park, the early part of the week, but it will be some time before he will be about.

BUSTER KEATON'S "THE NAVIGATOR" HERE SOON

Frozen-Faced Comedian's Latest Picture Is Called Comedy Classic

Buster Keaton has gone to the sea in ships.

Yup, he's way out in the briny open spaces where ships are ships and water is wet.

His latest Metro-Goldwyn feature comedy is called "The Navigator," and it is coming to the Sequoia Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, November 10-11 with a special matinee Tuesday at 3:30. To make it Buster hired an ocean liner and sailed to Catalina Island, where most of the scenes were made at anchor.

The star had the liveliest time in his life doing "The Navigator," and from advance reports, the picture is the liveliest of his career.

They put a sailor's suit on Buster, and when he wasn't swabbing decks, he was shoveling coal, tons of it, into the ship's many furnaces with their cavernous maws, as the latter are called in the shipping circles.

Buster's ship is the "Buford," a 450-foot liner, and one of Buster's jobs was scraping 450 feet of barnacles off the "Buford's" hull. For this job Buster wore a diving suit and was trailed by a submarine which helped him fight off octopi, sharks and enraged swordfish.

Buster chartered the "Buford" for two months. And with life nets spread at the level of the royal yardarms he spent many pleasant days adjusting sky sails on the fore, main and mizzenmasts. To say nothing of the other stunts he thought up for the new picture.

It is reported Keaton went to great personal risk for some of the scenes, so that audiences might have a real thrill. One thing is sure, future applicants for the job of deep-sea diving will decrease very much, for anyone seeing Buster don a suit and go down in "The Navigator" is likely to feel rather timid about trying it himself.

"The Navigator" tells the story of Rollo Treadway, a rich, spoiled youth, who one day decides to get married. Buster, as Rollo, calls on the lady of his dreams, Betsy O'Brien, played by Kathryn McGuire, who appeared in the star's last picture, "Sherlock, Jr." She refuses him, to his great surprise, believing him a weakling.

Buster then decides to go on the honeymoon trip alone, since he has already bought the steamship tickets. He arrives on the liner, finds the stateroom himself and goes to sleep. The trouble is he's on the wrong ship—it is a liner Betsy's father has sold to a foreign government.

Secret agents of a revolting party in that country have contrived to set the ship adrift to prevent ammunition from being sent. Betsy takes her father down to the dock so he can get some papers on the boat before it is taken over. He is waylaid by the foreigners and bound and gaged, but not before he has called for help. Betsy hears him and runs to the Navigator. She is no sooner on board than the agents cut the ropes and the big ship floats out to sea, with she and Buster the only occupants.

Then follow a series of adventures that are side-splitting with Buster trying to run the 450-foot liner and with Betsy learning that she has misjudged the man who asked for her hand. Six reels of pure joy is what they say of "The Navigator."

ASKS FOR DIVORCE

Charging that her husband was extremely cruel and failed to provide for herself and their child, Mrs. Rose T. Sherman filed suit Monday for divorce in this city against Arthur A. Sherman.

Mrs. Sherman alleges she owns property at Fair Oaks which she mortgaged at the defendant's request. She asks a restraining order from the court to prevent her husband leaving, or withdrawing money from the bank. She also asks that the property be set apart for her, that she gets $500 to take care of the mortgage in addition to $30 a month for the support of their child.

The couple were married in Berkeley April 26, 1900, and separated September 28, 1924. John D. Willard is attorney for the plaintiff.

SEEK RIGHT OF WAY

The Pacific Gas & Electric Company, in a suit filed yesterday in the Superior court, names the State of California, Earl P. Wilsey and Goldie Wilsey as defendants and seeks to secure title to a strip of land containing approximately two acres in Section 17, Township 5 South, Range 3 West, to be used as a right of way for lines of the company. The property is located almost due east of Redwood City.

The complaint was filed by Attorneys Thomas J. Straub and L. H. Susman of San Francisco.

FORECLOSURE SOUGHT

Action to foreclose a lein for $295.94 was started Thursday when Whitney Bros. Co., a corporation, filed suit against Wiley M. Griffin, May Griffin and others. The plaintiff alleges he furnished material for the plant of a lumber mill on 1827 acres of property in timber on September 23 and that $295.94 is yet due. Netherton & Johnson are attorneys for the company.

SEEKS TO QUIET TITLE

Asking that title to property in the Eastern Addition to Redwood City be vested in him, Richard Pease this week filed in the office of County Clerk Elizabeth M. Kneese a petition for a decree terminating the life estate of Mrs. Emma Pease, his mother, in the property.

According to the petition by a deed executed on July 29, 1906, Alexander Romero and Sophie Romero transferred the property to their daughter, Mrs. Pease, with the stipulation that upon her death it should go to her surviving children. Mrs. Pease died recently, and the son now asks that this provision of the deed be carried out, he being the only surviving child. He is represented by Attorney James T. O'Keefe of this city.
